Agreed .. I hate Mahathir to the core

Mahathir everyday cari gaduh with other nation...

At least Najib kawan kawan with everyone.. even Obama also come

Posted by: statikinetik Today, 07:39 AM

That's like saying if fish had legs it would be a good runner.
Songlap was literally the core principle of his reign.

All those "contributions" at the cost of tripling the national debt? That's poor management.

Posted by: yushin Today, 07:40 AM

If without his wife and 1MDB, he will go down in history as a good PM.
Haih...

Posted by: ZerOne01 Today, 07:40 AM

Poll mana

Posted by: Stirling Today, 07:43 AM

can agree to some degree.
also seemed more diplomatic than atuk.
atuk if younger can la be loudmouth, but dah tua lor, dunno if can support the words with action anymore. yindia pun tarak kesah aledi.

at least MRT better than perotiga lor. Or flying cars. Selling potong now can get much better car than P2 aledi at lower price.
But his anak bini and his 1MDB. Is like those chinaman campeni that goes to ruin once handover to his/her clueless son/doter/wife/husband.

Posted by: FLYING PANTIES Today, 07:44 AM

He had the chance of being the best pm.

Was very friendly to all ethnic and fair..

Till stupid 1mdb happen

Posted by: razgriz_0087 Today, 07:59 AM

Atuk is previous gen leader. He can't comprehend new gen desire. I dont know whether najib is good or just spending lavishly on our nation resources but gst basically a good move. PH only know 1mdb. Other than that, they have no other concrete direction. Poor PH, greatly being manipulated by rakyat. Hahaha

Posted by: jamisalamat Today, 08:04 AM

Najib was a player, and he's vulnerable to women.

If Rosmah didnt leech up to him, other psychopathic gold diggers will. Either way, Najib has no business being PM.

Posted by: tictac88 Today, 08:06 AM if you define good as someone as good as LKY that can elevate a country to developed status, i don't think najib has the ability to do it.

also, if you define being good means launching lots of infra projects, then anyone could have done it. hence such worship of bossku is illogical. you can say our 3rd or 5th PM was just as good if this is your only benchmark. at least during those reigns we did not have a huge inflation. bijan era, chapfan went from RM4 to RM6 in just 5 years. 50% inflation.

He was the best finance minister Malaysia has ever had. Many idiots will not be able to comprehend that and belief in retarded Lim Guan Eng liar.

Posted by: Perfect.Stranger Today, 08:34 AM

Being among the youngest Menteri Besar of Pahang at the age of 25, Pahang people elected him based on Tun Razak merit, not Najib himself.

From there, he went up with lots of corruption in Edu Min, Def Min to PM.

He was there too because of Thanos kept him alive and further thot him to swindled people's money.

Not a single politician clean, all them got their own dirty hand, with and without public knowledge.

Even Saddiq the so called young scum that opposed kleptocracy himself, allowed barely week old company without zero experience/capacity of doing tender/project worth 21 millions.

Heck, even KJ direct award Sea Games Security Scanner System to his old buddy. Not a single meeting held, with just one phone called away, KJ and buddy "say hi, how are you doing, not so good" then next week, Letter of Award gotten for 30 millions worth of tender.

You can say like that to half politicians tho, without corruption, half from them are good too.

never was, never will. Also, the bunch of people that follows him....

u can see those that gangster about, you can see BERSIH out, you can see our currency went bonkers....you can see our economy having foreign investors leaving....

and you can see signing wonderful contracts that sells country to other people.... as that is how it sounds from Dr.m

smart?...nope, more like the other.....

not gonna say it...but sole purpose of GST was to reap more money faster returns, with more transparencies, and repurpose them for debts and etc.... IF it was implemented wrongly....you now have your example.... own pocket use , own political use....

so, u wanna say good stuff about this person?...i see none. Just a pocket full of "Apa cina mahu" racist remarks.

Nothing to discuss. He stole from the country for his own personal gain. He laugh at u all becoz u all still think he is good ..trying to find some good in him when he knows he is rotten to the very core.

How much money has he taken ? After out of jail ..if he go to jail ...he can enjoy life ... Can bathe in money while you 'goons' just continue to suffer n slog to make spare change to survive.

Instead of shaming him you all still support him. Let's do it another way ..imagine it was LGE who did all this ...how would u react ?

you have been paying APCO and FBC, to feel good about najib

<http://www.sarawakreport.org/2013/02/not-cool-to-look-a-fool-tonys-pr-people-booked-psy/>
13 February 2013

Last year Sarawak Report was able to reveal that FBC Media had received a staggering RM84 million for its own botched and illegal campaign promoting Najib on international news programmes. The money was paid out of the PM office budget.

The opposition PKR had earlier exposed how the Blair linked team of advisors had been paid a fortune while at APCO. Stadlen himself was paid USD$420,000 for a 6 month contract in 2009.

So, we ask how much is it this time that Malaysian taxpayers are paying for this same group of image merchants and what more stunts are in store after millions were shelled out on Psy, who made his name out of free downloads from You Tube?

But, behind the scenes it has become clear that Najib operates very differently against those he regards as his political enemies.

Sarawak Report has gathered further evidence, which reveals how the PM's publicly funded communications team is continuing to target and defame opponents by sponsoring smear pieces in newspapers, which pose as objective journalism and expert 'opinion pieces'.

The businessman Jho Low has also been involved, as he himself admitted:

"These Umno guys are spin masters; they know all this sort of nonsense"[Jho Low Euromoney Magazine].

Over the past months both Anwar Ibrahim and Dr Mahathir have been subject to these insidious attacks, all funded by the tax payer through Najib's long-standing communications chief, the UK national Paul Stadlen.

Stadlen is also the orchestrator of a team of so-called cyber troopers, whose job is to add pro-Najib comments to potentially damaging articles in online news outlets.

Stadlen, whose nightclubbing reputation has become somewhat legendary in KL, is a survivor of the PR company APCO's hugely inflated contract to boost Najib's predecessor Badawi.

This contract was inherited by Najib, who continued to use APCO.

It was Anwar Ibrahim who put an end to the cosy arrangement, by revealing the multi-million dollar figures involved and pointing out the irony that a virulently anti-Israeli BN government had hired a Tel Aviv based company to manage its PR.

Jost Trevino was paid to portray Anwar as an anti-semitic terrorist sympathiser, encouraged by angry ACPO

Najib was forced to cancel the contract, which resulted in a venomous resentment on the part of APCO's bosses by all reports, leading to a sustained campaign in subsequent years by related parties, who have worked hard to depict the opposition leader as an anti-semitic, Muslim terrorist sympathiser.

These attackers included the PR company FBC media, which picked up the APCO contract (while still working with them in Washington on the Malaysia brief).

Paul Stadlen, APCO's former Malaysia boss, himself moved briefly to FBC media, before setting up his own communications outfit, which was then hired back directly by the Prime Minister's office to supervise Najib's public image and manage the FBC contract.

Once again, the huge sums being paid for this foreign advisor have proved a source of comment and concern.

It's the equivalent of you borrowing money to beautify your house driveway - who the fuck is using your driveway? Will it increase your income?

The 2014 and subsequent financial crisis and fall in MYR is in part due to this - after the Govt funded construction was completed, turns out the nominal value of goods output by Malaysia did not increase by much. All the economic activity caused by feeding in borrowings into the construction sector disguised the fact.

E.g. your salary is Rm4000. You borrow Rm1000 every month and spend like your salary is Rm5000 on Godiva chocolates. After the spending spree, your earnings go back to Rm4000 - in macroeconomic terms this is recession and MYR drop lor. Which is where we were in 2014. And then he started another round with GST instead. Once that was ended, here we are lor - experiencing the pain of salary drop back down to 4000.

ON TOP OF THAT he and his cronies songlaped a good deal of the money. So it's even worse! Even more value was lost!
